

The two tracks

Track 1 is what you are obliged to do: it gets done fast and clean, and never used as leverage. Track 2 is what you want: it gets its own route, one that does not run through them. The rule: never connect the tracks.

Track 1: what am I obliged to do right now, and when will I do each thing, properly, with nothing for them to point at?	Track 2: what do I actually want, said plainly, and which route reaches it without depending on their cooperation?

Check the tracks are not connected: am I holding anything on track 1 back as leverage? What is that costing me?
